Course Description

B610 High School Advanced Reading and Writing

9th Grade -11th Grade

This class is recommended for high school students (or highly gifted middle school students) who are on the Pre AP and AP track. Per semester session, students will be assigned 10 or more readings (short stories), and they will be expected to produce a well written essay within 40-50 minutes. Students who sign up must be prepared for the rigor and challenge to think and write critically.

On college entrance exams, this is a vital skill as students must process information, analyze content, evaluate elements, and develop a quick prewrite to establish a well grounded piece of writing that conveys depth of thought, reflection, and a mature perception.
